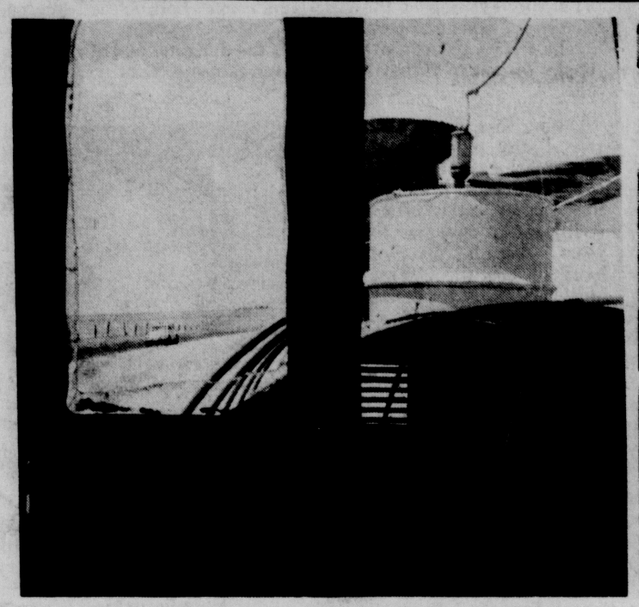
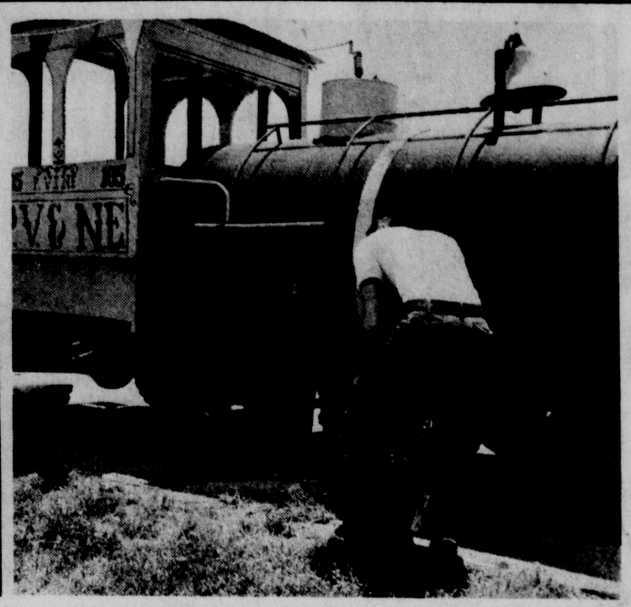
The Canyon News

Volume 80 No. 8 | Canyon, Texas | Thursday, May 20, 1976 | 12 Pages | 15 Cents.





The AT&SF never had so much trouble covering 12 miles as did the one-man crew for this locomotive making its way along the Palo Duro Highway Tuesday afternoon. The train engine, used in the musical-drama "TEXAS" which is staged annually during the summer at Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon, was chugged into Canyon for repairs at a local mechanic shop by Pat. He found the going rough, however, and had to stop about six miles from the canyon gate for a water refill. Finally, the train made it into the city escorted by a city police car.

Proposed school site is at Sundown, Western

The Canyon School District has acquired an option to purchase a 12-acre tract of land at Sundown and Western about a mile south of Gene Howe School for location of a new elementary school.

School Board President Tom Keeling announced the site location Tuesday night.

The site is 110 feet west of Western Street on Sundown Lane, Keeling said.

He said the cost of the site will be about $30,000.

The cost to extend water and sewer lines from Hollywood Road and Western, where Amarillo utilities service terminates, will be about $90,000, but Keeling said the district could expect to recoup all but about $30,000 of that cost when the school is taken into Amarillo city limits and when land developers seek to tie onto the utilities lines.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said the site is 1.8 miles south of Gene Howe by road and about 1.2 miles south of the school by straight line.

Jacobs said it is the staff's tentative thinking that students living north of Hollywood Road will attend Gene Howe School and those living south of Hollywood Road and north of about Rockwell Road would attend the new elementary school.

Canyon board members had promised earlier they would reveal the proposed site prior to another bond issue election.

Canyon voters are scheduled to go to the polls Tuesday to vote on whether $2.95 million in bonds should be issued by the district to build the new elementary school and to provide remodelling and additions to Canyon High School.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday to canvass election returns.

It will be the third bond issue election called by the board since early December for the purpose of constructing new schools. A December election called for issuance of $6 million in bonds for construction of a new high school and elementary school. A February bond issue election called for issuance of $5.5 million for construction of a new junior high and elementary school.

Voters turned down both proposals.

In other business Tuesday night, the board accepted from the 1976 CHS senior class their gift, the establishment of a Bicentennial Scholarship fund. Interest from funds available to the seniors will finance a $100 annual scholarship for a senior student to attend the college of his choice.

Elementary School Principals Bob Parks of Rex Reeves School and Luther Lawless of Gene Howe School outlined briefly their schedules for implementation of improvements and changes at their schools as recommended by a recent self-study and visiting team report.

The board approved participation next year in the federally-subsidized school lunch program.

They also approved amending the 1975-76 budget to reflect increases in expenditures, particularly in the areas of maintenance.

School Business Manager Ronnie Wood told the board larger-than-anticipated expenditures were necessary this school year for utilities costs and maintenance.

Since the 1973-74 school year, he said, utility costs have risen from an annual expenditure level of $70,000 to $133,000 this year.

The biggest increase has been in electricity billings, he said, with $50,000 budgeted and $78,000 expended.

Collins objects, hesitates then supports bonds

The leader of opposition to previous school bond issue elections changed his mind, then changed it again Tuesday night, but wound up pledging his support of the Tuesday $2.9 million bond issue election for a new school.

Stan Collins told Canyon School Board members, after they had unveiled their site for a new elementary school, he would not support but would not actively oppose the upcoming bond election. Barely 10 minutes later, he had changed his mind and told the board he would support their effort.

Collins expressed initial ambivalence toward the bond issue proposal Tuesday night after learning of the site for a new proposed elementary school.

While he agreed the school site would probably serve rural rather than urban residents, Collins said the site should be located nearer Canyon.

"I frankly can't support this bond issue," he said. "I wonder if the issues are clear. Are we going to come to logger-heads over this again?"

"With the bond issue just a week away I don't think there's anything we can do about it," Board President Tom Keeling said.

"You planned it that way, didn't you?" Collins retorted.

"No," said Keeling.

Mrs. Jean Irwin explained that one major factor which contributed to the board's selection of the site unveiled Tuesday night was the cost of furnishing utilities to a new school.

"I'm not going to fight it," Collins said. "We need it too bad, but I won't support it."

Keeling said the board int[illegible] the site to cover children bet[illegible] Gene Howe school and the R[illegible] Reeves area and not to cover children from South Amarillo.

Later, after hearing a statement of support by Block, Collins changed his stand.

"If I may change my mind," he said, "I said originally I would support it and let's just leave it at that. I still support the bond is-

Jacobs concerned about guidelines

Detente shaky between boards

A months-long effort at intra-regional diplomacy may have resulted Monday night in only a shaky detente between the Amarillo and Canyon school boards.

The two boards, meeting in Amarillo, came to a general agreement without voting, to accept a single-spaced sheet of "proposed guidelines in future Canyon-Amarillo de-annexation and annexation applications."

But Canyon Supt. Jerry Jacobs indicated the shakiness of the agreement when he challenged during the joint meeting the use of the document.

He stood by his concern Tuesday over what, if anything, was accomplished by the joint session, although he stopped short of saying the new agreement is more cosmetic than substantial.

"Unless our board changes," he said Tuesday, "the point I was trying to make was that anything other than what's in there (the agreement) we don't agree with."

The intent of the Canyon board, he said, was to limit future annexations by Amarillo to those specifically outlined in the negotiated agreement. Other requests for de-annexation, he said, should be given a negative response from both school boards.

That's apparently not the way the Amarillo board viewed the intent of the document.

Jacobs argued Monday night that if the guidelines agreed upon, in fact, do not limit future de-annexations to those circumstances outlined in the guidelines the negotiations and agreement are meaningless.

Jacobs agreed that the guidelines could not, of themselves, be legally binding on the boards, but contended that unless the guidelines are at least morally binding the guidelines mean little.

Amarillo Board Members Pete Dallas and Irwin Wall termed the guidelines "a starting point" to open communication with the Canyon board, but Dallas reiterated that the Amarillo board has a stated policy to encourage developers to attempt de-annexation of their property for annexation to the Amarillo district.

That policy, he indicated, would not be altered by the agreement negotiated between the boards.

Canyon board members protested the wording of one paragraph of the agreement and the Amarillo board agreed to a reworking of the document.

The proposed guidelines are preceded by a general statement of purpose:

"Without attempting to contract in any legally binding sense but recognizing that there will be instances in which it will be desirable to detach areas from Canyon Independent School District and attach them to Amarillo Independent School District and that it is to be shared advantage of both districts if a solution be sought by agreement when the question arises, the boards of trustees of the two districts recommend the use of these guidelines."

The agreement comes about three years after the Canyon board first learned of Amarillo interest in encouraging South Amarillo developers to seek de-annexation of properties in the Canyon district for subsequent annexation by the Amarillo district.

During that period, the Canyon board has fought at least one such de-annexation effort by a South Amarillo developer and has agreed to one other.

Jacobs said Tuesday at least one developer of land west of Coulter Road is expected to seek de-annexation in the near future and several developers south of Hillside Road have also indicated an interest in de-annexations.

The guidelines proposed for adoption by the boards read as follows:

"Canyon will consider de-annexation applications on a

Revaluation not included in budget

A tentative budget proposal for 1977 presented Randall County commissioners Monday calls for an increase in expenditures of five percent and a revenue increase of about 10 percent for next year over the current year budget.

County Judge Woody Pond handed out copies of the proposal prepared by County Auditor Betty Hodges and his office but commissioners had no discussion on the tentative spending plan.

Pond had said last week the new budget will not require an increase in advalorem taxes. Commissioners increased taxes by about 25 percent last year for the current budget.

Next year's budget, for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, calls for revenues of nearly $2 million.

A surplus of $77,400 is projected at year's end if the budget is accepted as presented.

Revenues are to total $1,945,600 in the tentative proposal. That figure compares with a $1.8 million revenue estimate for the current year.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, has projected a growth on the tax rolls of about $60,000 for the coming year. Other income from fees of office, auto registration and other

Late arrivals have officials here puzzled

An unusually large number of children enrolling during the final month at the elementary school has Rex Reeves officials puzzled.

Nineteen new students have enrolled at Rex Reeves since the first of May. Three children entered Monday, with only ten days of school remaining, and two others have inquired about enrolling.

"I don't ever remember it being like this," said curriculum director Vondean McGregor. "This is really so unusual."

Children entering so late in the year must be evaluated for promotion or retention by their grades at their previous school, she said.

She noted that a change so late in the year is usually unpleasant for the child, especially if the student must change to different textbooks.

Other Canyon schools have not had a similar influx. At Gene Howe Elementary only one child has enrolled during May. There were, however, several students to enter Gene Howe following Easter.

School officials at Canyon High and Canyon Junior High said they had not had any extraordinary enrollment.

Brisk breezes make the blades of the windmill in the background whistle, pumping water to a parched surface which is still suffering the late stage of a nine-month drought. Prairie grasslands are brown and light green as they thirst for moisture which has been only spotting and infrequent in the Canyon area.

City alters formula on taxes; change hikes elderly taxes

The increase in the tax assessment percentage by both the school district and now the city may more than double the property taxes for senior citizens this year while it leaves the property tax for younger residents unchanged.

The city commissioners Monday night followed the lead of the school board to raise the per cent of valuation from 40 to 80 per cent. At the same time, they lowered the tax rate from $1.82 per $100 valuation to 91 cents per $100 valuation.

The alteration was approved, even though the tax rate had been set in April, because the city contracts tax collection to the school district. In doing so, the city agreed to use the same valuation as the school district.

City attorney Elton Cox told the board they could probably legally leave the valuation unchanged, but he recommended the change to simplify tax collection. The present tax ordinance must be amended by the commissioners to make the change.

By doubling the valuation percentage and dividing the tax rate by two, the same amount of revenue for the city will be produced.

At the meeting, commissioners made a point of stressing that the change was not a tax increase.

Yet, because of the homestead exemption, the switch will greatly affect elderly taxpayers.

Under the old formula, if a senior citizen had a house valued for taxes at $10,000, he would be taxes on 40 per cent of that or $4,000. With a $3,000 homestead exemption, only $1,000 would be left to tax at the old rate of $1.82 per hundred. This would make the tax bill $18.20.

But the new system greatly increases the tax burden. The same $10,000 house taxes at 80 per cent will leave $8,000 to be taxes. By subtracting the $3,000 homestead exemption, the senior citizen then has a tax liability on $5,-

Playoff game May 25

The opening game of the bi-district playoff will be held here May 25 beginning at 4 p.m. when the Eagles meet Pecos.

In the best two-out-of-three series, the second game will be played at Pecos on May 29. If the series is split, Canyon will play a doubleheader at Pecos.

In the final district game of the season, CHS split a double header with Levelland.

In the first game, Terry Mick gave up five hits and struck out 12 batters as the Eagles won 6-2.

Matt Madewell and Greg Taylor both hit home runs and Hoss Ratliff got two doubles for the game.

Ron Hickman and Terry Mick each had a double.

Canyon lost the second game 4-1 when the Levelland pitcher yielded only one hit — a single in the seventh inning by Matt Madewell.

City juggles tax values to conform

In a brief meeting Monday night, city commissioners agreed to realign the city's percentage of tax assessment with that of the school district.

A recent increase from 40 to 80 percent by the school district makes it awkward for the city to retain the old 40 percent valuation because the tax statement for both entities are processed on the same computer at the same time by school personnel.

City attorney Elton Cox told the board that while they could probably legally remain at the 40 percent valuation, it would be advantageous to conform to the school district.

At the same time they upped the assessment percentage, the commissioners lowered the tax rate from $1.82 to 91 cents. The new rate will generate the same amount of tax revenue as the old rate.

The current tax ordinance must be amended to effect the change.

In other business, the board appointed Ed Nichols to the Canyon Housing Authority to serve the remainder of the term of Terry Pittman.

They accepted a bid of $4,438 from Stevenson Motor Co. for a new pickup truck for the water and sewer department. Other bids were $4,294 from Stevenson on a truck fueled with unleaded gas only and $4,530.50 from Jess Ford Company.

The commission also approved an ordinance lowering the trash collection rate for apartments from $4.25 per unit to $2 a unit. The new rate was set in a previous meeting well-attended by apartment house owners.

'Hall of Indians' coming to museum

Cowboys and Indians have always been the standard Western fare for tourists, and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon will soon be catering to that hunger.

"The Hall of Indians" is now under construction in the center hall of the museum with an estimated time of completion of September 1976.

The hall will feature the five Southern Plains tribes, including Comanche, Kiowas, Arapahos, Cheyenne and Apache. Artifacts and maps will trace the movement of the tribes across the Plains and the tribes' individual development.

Enclosed in glass cases, many of the artifacts are outstanding, according to Miss Carol Kline, the museum's exhibits designer. One of the most impressive articles in the museum's collection is Kwahadi Comanche Chief Quanah Parker's trailbonnet. The bonnet has previously been pictured in the Time/Life books.

"Most of the artifacts are in good condition or in the process of being repaired or restored," Miss Kline said. "The beadwork in many of the articles is first class."

A tepee, similar to a Comanche lodge, is arranged so that tourists may step up to a window and glimpse the inside of the tepee, the utensils and clothing used by the Indian and his mode of living.

Artifacts in the displays include fancy beadwork mocassins, papooses, and full dress clothing. A piece of clothing interesting to the viewer will be a Kiowa "Ghost Dance Dress," according to Miss Kline. The dress is a dark color with the moon, stars and sun in beadwork on the bodice.

Included in the Hall of Indians is a pueblo display. A simulated dwelling of adobe has been erected in the hall and will be furnished with authentic Indian artifacts.

The Hall of Indians will provide a factual account of the movement and development of the Southern Plains Indian, with the use of maps and pieces from the museum's Indian collection. The hall dates from the earliest times to exposure to the Spanish and white man to the present time.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum has been commended by the Smithsonian Institute for its vast collection and for the quality of its Southern Plains Indian artifacts, according to Miss Kline.

A "Hall of Cowboys" is planned for a later date, to be built facing the Indian display.

Music camp planned here

The reservation deadline for the West Texas State University Choral Music Camp open to all students who have completed the seventh grade, is May 31.

Guest clinician for the June 20-26 sessions will be Dr. Eph Ehly, nationally-known choral conductor from the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

The camp will be divided into the Junior and Senior High Choirs, which will perform separately and combine for several numbers as well. Students may audition for many ensembles such as madrigal groups, men's quartets and girls' ensembles.

Other classes available include theory, conducting, beginning piano, elementary and intermediate guitar, sight reading, stage choreography and "Development of Popular Music."

Private lessons in voice, at a small additional fee, are also available upon arrangement at registration on June 20.

Tuition and room and board charges for the workshop total $60.

For more information, contact Dr. George Umberson, director; West Texas Choral Music Camp; WTSU; Canyon, Texas 79016.

After making his final statement, Collins left the room to try to contact an Amarillo news media representative who Collins had earlier told he would not support the bond issue.

Block told the board he is sure the Gene Howe area can support the bond issue. He had told the board last month area residents might attempt a de-annexation or establishment of a separate school district should the board fail to call a bond issue for construction of two new schools.

"We'd still like to keep this district united, not divided," he said.

"The number one thing is to unite the district and the second thing is to provide classrooms for the children without having to bus them."

Drew Williams, left, and Brad Daniel visit with Canyon High School mathematics teacher, Bessie Ellis, as the three discuss the pending summer trip to the 16th annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium. The three will have a trip to the symposium where leading scientists and engineers from education and industry will be sharing information during June. The trip is sponsored by Southwestern Public Service.

Summer science symposium studies for three locals

Brad Daniel and Drew Williams of Canyon have been selected to attend the 16th annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium to be held at the University of Texas in Austin June 1-4.

A faculty member from Canyon High School, Mrs. Bessie Ellis, will accompany the two CHS students to the symposium which is jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the University of Texas. More than 500 of the state's top science students and teachers will attend. The locals are being sponsored by the Southwestern Public Service Company, a charter member of TAERF, which is sponsoring a total of 42 High Plains participants.

Brad Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daniel, 2629 13th Ave. and a junior at Canyon High School. He is a member of the JETS Club, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students, National Who's Who Among American High School Students and is a National Honor Society candidate.

Also a junior at Canyon High School, Drew Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams, 400 4th Ave., Canyon. He is a member of the JETS, earned the high class grade in Chemistry I and received a Gold Key in Art. His other interests include fishing, bowling and tennis.

The sponsor, Mrs. Ellis, is a mathematics teacher at CHS and a graduate of West Texas State University. She is a member of the National Council of Mathematics and the Texas Council and Great Plains Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Leading scientists and engineers from education and industry will address the symposium during June and the participants will spend two afternoons touring the laboratories at the university, including those in which the TAERF program of thermonuclear fusion research is being carried out.

'Clean-up' deadline almost here

The deadline is nearing for entering the Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix-Up contest being sponsored locally by city merchants in cooperation with the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

The women's division is handling the contest with entry deadline on or before May 31. Entrants may enter any of the three areas of the contest by writing Women's Division, Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Box 8, Canyon, Texas 79015.

All contestants must reside in the city limits of Canyon, or within a three-mile radius of the city. Premises will be inspected on receipt of entry and the premises will be re-inspected and judged during the week of June 20-26 to determine the winners. The judges decision will be final with winners to receive $25 awards in each of the contest areas.

Sponsoring the contest are local merchants including Johnston's Trustworthy Hardware, Imperial Savings and Loan, Sternenberg Lumber, West Texas State Bank, Don Dolle's Lawn and Garden Center, Consumer's Fuel Association and Elevator, First National Bank of Canyon, Panhandle Savings and Loan, and Taylor and Sons Discount Lumber.

T-Anchor headquarters open for group tours

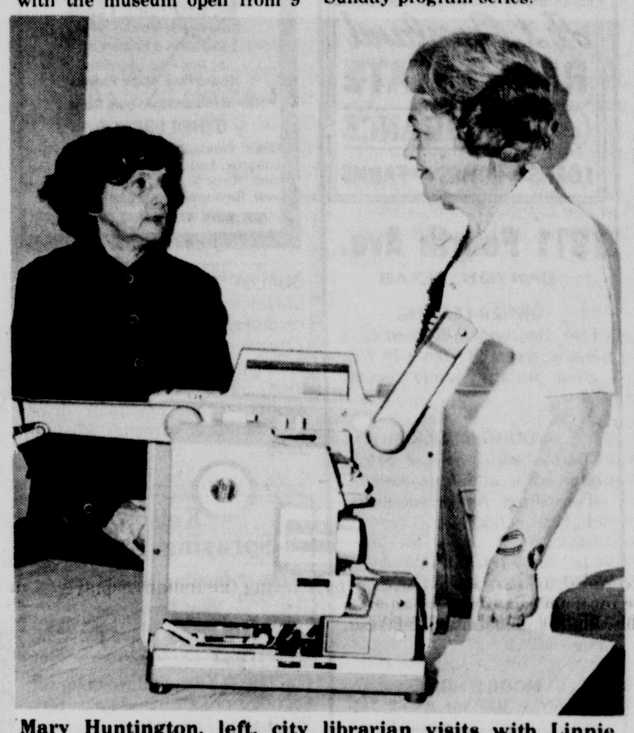
The recently completed T-Anchor Ranch Headquarters, which was reconstructed on the museum grounds adjacent Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, is now open to the public for group tours.

Arrangements for group tours of the facility may be made by contacting the tour director, Patti Kilpatrick, 655-2567 or 655-9711.

Beginning June 1, the museum will be changing to the summertime visitation schedule with the museum open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Museum tours may also be arranged for groups by contacting the tour director.

Sunday hours at the museum will be 2 until 6 p.m. The summer schedule will remain effective through August 31.

Special summer programs are planned to begin June 6 with movies and other programs slated for the public free on Sunday afternoon. Current movies as well as oldtime favorites will be a part of the regular summer Sunday program series.



Mary Huntington, left, city librarian visits with Linnie Harter, president of the Canyon Friends of the Public Library, after making the official presentation of better than $1,000 worth of motion picture projection equipment to the library for use there. The Bell and Howell 16 mm. projector cost over $800 while a Bell and Howell filmstrip projector with cassette attachment took up the remaining funds. The equipment was paid for through the Friend's book sales and membership fees along with other donations. The Canyon Public Library participates in an interlibrary loan system and has numerous films available on request for club groups, etc. by checking with Mrs. Huntington.

Summer math workshops planned

Five workshops in mathematics are being offered during the summer sessions at West Texas State University.

The courses are available to students desiring a broader knowledge in mathematics and to those majoring in mathematics. The courses will conform with individual requirements and background.

Three courses are to be offered during the first session of summer school. "Statistical Methods I," Mathematics 360, will be instructed by Dr. Miguel Tarrab, associate professor of mathematics. The statistics course will answer all questions concerning statistics and will emphasize local analysis. The class will be offered May 31 through June 17.

A second statistics workshop, "Statistical Methods II," Math 361, will be a continuation of Math 360 and will provide an overall perspective of elementary statistics. It is available from June 17 through July 5.

"Survey of Modern Mathematics Workshop," Math 490, will be a workshop on classroom enrichment ideas and techniques. Students will be required to have a proficient technical background in mathematics.

The workshop can be taken for six hours credit and taken any number of times to satisfy local requirements of a public school system. The course, offered from June 17 through July 5, will be taught by David Lasher, assistant professor of mathematics.

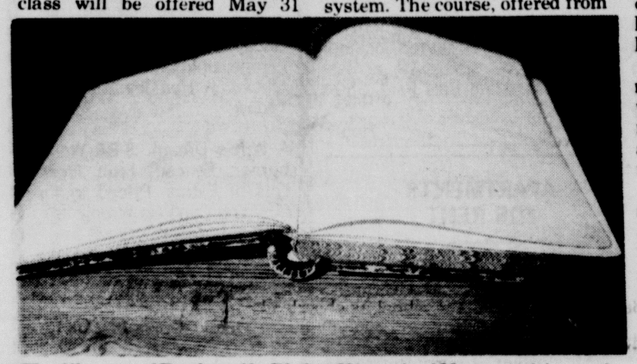
Two workshops will be offered during the second summer session from July 8 through 27.

"Problems Workshop in Mathematics," Math 491, will involve the history and development of computers, and will be instructed by Dr. Jack Bullock, associate professor of mathematics. This course may be taken for six hours of credit.

"Foundations of Geometry Workshop," Math 5592, will present material from an intuitive and descriptive approach and include logic systems and basic laws of reasoning. The course is open to anyone who has had high school geometry and has graduate standing.

This course is required for a master's degree in education with a concentration in mathematics, but will not count toward a master of science degree with a major in mathematics.

Registration for the first summer session will be May 31 and the session continues through July 5. Second session registration is July 3 with the session continuing through August 12.



The library of Panhandle Plains Historical Museum this week received an "Abstract of Land Titles for the Quitaque Range" recording land transfers from 1877-1890 by the Briscoe County Clerk's office. The preserved copy of the abstracts is completely handwritten and records when Col. Charles Goodnight bought and sold property in the Quitaque Range area. The book arrived from Pepperdine University in California. Another recent addition at the museum was a microfilm copy of the Austin Statesman covering 1870-1890.

First woman in ROTC gets Army commission

With the brief pinning ceremony at commencement, Kim Sharp, became the first woman graduate of West Texas State University to be commissioned into the Army through the ROTC program.

Because she was named a distinguished military graduate for her academic work, she received her commission into the Regular Army instead of the Army Reserve as most ROTC graduates do.

2/LT. Sharp left the day after graduation for Ft. Huachuca where she will enter a nine-week basic officers' course. After that, she will attend a counter-intelligence course.

In addition to being the first woman ROTC graduate here, 2/LT. Sharp is also among some of the first women to be commissioned directly into a combat support branch of the Army. Until recently, service women were members of the Woman's Army Corps, or WACs. 2/LT. Sharp received her commission in the intelligence branch.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Sharp of Bushland.

2/LT. Sharp majored in music, graduated last May and did graduate work this year. She held academic scholarships at WT and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. 2/LT. Sharp also performed with both the Amarillo Symphony and in "TEXAS."

Sales tax for city

The city sales tax rebate for April amounted to $5,365.33, Comptroller Bob Bullock announced.

The check, mailed last week, represents one percent of the sales tax collected in Canyon.

In addition, Bullock announced that his department has collected nearly $1 million in sales tax judgments in the last 16 months. He said this is more than the total collected during the past eight years.

Scouts plan garage sale, big auction

Canyon Boy Scout Troop 31 will hold a garage sale and auction at the J.O. Parker Memorial Building in Canyon on Saturday.

The garage sale will begin at 9 a.m. with any number of articles for sale. The auction will feature new merchandise donated by local merchants to be auctioned in the afternoon Saturday.

In addition, the event will feature a donated citizens band radio to be given away during the day. Bob Law, father of one of the Troop's scouts, will serve as auctioneer.

Funds from the all-day festival of bargains will go toward the Troop's upcoming skiing trip to Ute Lake later this month.

TO: CHARLES W. SANDERS and the UNKNOWN HEIRS OF LELAND HARTMAN, deceased, Defendants, Greeting:

YOU (AND EACH OF YOU) ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the 47th District Court of Randall County at the Courthouse thereof, in Canyon, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 13th day of May A.D. 1976, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 15 day of July A.D. 1975, in this cause, numbered 14,772-A on the docket of said court and styled MARY LOTTIE URSCHEL, INDIVIDUALLY AND MARY LOTTIE URSCHEL AND DANIEL RALPH URSCHEL, INDEPENDENT EXECUTORS OF THE ESTATE OF LESTER B. URSCHEL, Plaintiffs, vs. PANHANDLE DOWNS, INC., ET AL, Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: The nature of this suit, briefly stated, is to quiet title to real property and for a declaratory judgment as to rights arising from the relationships between Plaintiffs, Defendants and Panhandle Downs, Inc., in which Plaintiffs, for cause of action, would respectfully show the Court:

1. That on or about July 10, 1975, Lester B. and Mary Lottie Urschel were lawfully and in fee simple, seized and possessed of realty situated in Randall County, Texas, and legally described as being 330 acres out of Section 77, in Block B-5, H&GN Ry. Co. Survey, Abstract No. 222, Patent No. 296, Vol. 61, dated December 31, 1880, and being the west 330 acres of that portion of said Section 77 which lies north of U.S. Highway No. 60, in Randall County, Texas.

2. That Defendants wrongfully and unlawfully entered upon and wrongfully withheld possession of the aforesaid land from Plaintiffs to the damages of Plaintiffs.

3. That Defendants through some relationship or claim of relationship with Panhandle Downs, Inc. are asserting some claim to some interest in the aforesaid land, which claim is invalid.

4. That none of the Defendants have any right, title or interest in or to the aforesaid land and for other and further relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Budget . . .

Expenditures are projected tentatively to total $1,868,100 for the 1977 year. That figure compares with a $1,778,600 expenditure figure for the current year.

The tax collector's office has been budgeted about $35,000 each year for two years to carry out the reappraisal, but no equivalent figure is included in the budget estimate given commissioners Monday.

With the resignation last month of John Carrington, who had headed up the county reappraisal effort, commissioners have learned an outside firm could charge as much as $350,000 to conduct the reappraisal effort.

The expenditure for a reappraisal could, then, cause a tax increase next year unless commissioners find outside income to finance the effort. Federal revenue sharing funds, if the program is continued beyond its expiration date at the end of this year, might be allocated for the reappraisal, for example.

Commissioner Dee Griffin said estimates from landscaping firms indicate it would cost about $7000 or $8000 to landscape the annex area.

Other commissioners suggested that rather than landscape the area, concrete should be used. It was estimated that concrete for the job would cost about $3000.

Commissioners authorized Griffin to check into the possibility of contracting with outside firms for provision of a retirement plan for county employees.

They also approved the granting of a credit in the county's state-wide retirement system for employees with military service records so long as the employees meet the requirements established by the system.

Nelson Canode of Verd-A-Ray Corporation told commissioners they could save electricity costs at the new annex in Amarillo by converting their outside lighting system to low-pressure solium lighting. Cost would be $262 per fixture with four fixtures required, he said.

Commissioners took no action on his proposal.

000. At the 91 cent rate, a senior citizen's tax bill will be $45.50.

Taxpayers who don't get the homestead exemption will not see any change in their taxes. At the old 40 per cent valuation and $1.82 tax rate, a house valued for taxes at $10,000 would have a tax bill of $72.80.

The same $10,000 house valued at 80 per cent, or $8,000 and taxes at the new rate of 91 cents, would also have a tax of $72.80.

With the valuation change, the senior citizens will still get a tax break but it will be much smaller than before. With the old rate a senior citizen with a $10,000 house would pay $54.60 less than a younger taxpayer with the same $10,000 house.

Under the new formula, the tax break will still amount to $27.30.

There may be some relief for senior citizens in the future. Both city manager Glen Metcalf and school superintendent Jerry Jacobs said that the exemption should be looked at later.

"Maybe sometime in the future, all the entities could look at the exemption," said Metcalf. He said he would oppose a unilateral decision to increase the exemption because that would create the inequities that the joint tax office had been formed to eliminate.

Jacobs said he had not given the exemption much thought but that in another tax year, the school board might consider increasing the exemption.

A board of equalization will be held June 1 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the board of education building. Notices will be mailed today to residents with rendered property.

Happy news

Jaycees take first prize

BY MARY NEAL HENRY

HAPPY JAYCEES AND Happy Jaycee-Ettes who attended the state convention in Fort Worth last weekend were Jeanne and Ronnie Johnson and Sara and George Tirey. They returned on Sunday with several state awards.

Happy Jaycees won two firsts: Health and Safety, which included the blood drive chaired by Norman Freeman and Terry Wright, and the Wives recognition chaired by Jim Whitlow.

Four second place honors were taken. These were Governmental Involvement chaired by Neil McCarley, Membership Recruitment chaired by Rickey McPherson, Senior Citizens (Celebration) chaired by Lloyd Rahlfs and Ways and Means which included the Farm Sale chaired by Lloyd Rahlfs and Dean Bryan.

Happy Jaycees also took two third place trophies, Chapter Activities chaired by Gene Shipman and Health and Safety chaired by Terry Wright.

Happy Jaycee-Ettes took top honors in the state. They won Outstanding Club by winning first in Aide to Jaycees, first in Civic, and second in other Jaycee-Ette Activities.

These are the only three categories in which Jaycee-Ettes participate. (Incidentally, Happy was chartered by Canyon. They were winning many firsts at that time . . . since this is the year of nostalgia).

Jeanne Johnson won Outstanding State President of Division I and Judy Shipman won Outstanding Jaycee-Ette of Texas in Division I . . . a "clean sweep for Happy."

Happy Jaycees and Happy Jaycee-Ettes and their families had a victory celebration and dinner at the Jaycee Hall on Sunday evening.

KAYE LYNN STUBBLEFIELD and Connie Venhaus celebrated their eleventh birthdays together last Saturday afternoon. Their mothers, Kay Venhaus and Mary Stubblefield, took them and Tisha Selvidge, Shelley Peterson, Mollie Parker, Rocelia Vandergriff, Melissa Harvey, Teresa Luker, Angelique Henry and Carrie and Vickie Venhaus to Wonderland Park at Amarillo.

After the rides, they ate birthday cake which was pink with white icing and trimmed in pink roses and green.

Angelique Henry injured her leg early in the day at the park and had to be sewed up by Dr. Boswell in the emergency room at Palo Duro Hospital. Take note, you youngsters, watch your step and don't spoil your own fun, or the doctor's afternoon off.

DOLLE'S LAWN AND Garden Center never did call me and tell me that I won that lawn mower. I attended that grand opening anyway.

Churches back soil week

At least a dozen local churches will participate Sunday and next week in the annual observance of Soil Stewardship Week sponsored by the Palo Duro Soil and Water Conservation District.

"We Begin Again," is the theme of the 1976 observance.

Bob McCasland, director of the soil and water conservation district, said a dozen local churches have been furnished bulletin inserts and brochures for use in their literature next week.

"The purpose of the observance is to emphasize man's responsibility under God to protect and use wisely His gifts of soil and water," McCasland said.

This year's program began in April with a special breakfast for area ministers. A slide show entitled "Limits" which traces the growing awareness of Americans that natural resources are not inexhaustible and must be protected, was reviewed.

Heritage Woman's Club holds planning session

An executive committee meeting preceded the general session which was opened with a unison recitation of the junior club's pledge. During the business meeting it was reported that the recent Mother's Day bake sale proceeds of $114 will be added to last fall's bazaar proceeds of over $250 to make a total contribution toward the defibrillator project later this month.

The defibrillator project was initiated by the HWC club members during the 1974-75 clubyear and plans were to continue support of the project again this fall. The defibrillator purchased for Palo Duro Hospital will be included in future funds raised by the clubwomen at the bazaar this fall.

In other business, Harriett Brandon, club member, reported on the recent state convention where she was named as the new state junior clubs director. Awards from state convention were also presented to club members including Janie Loudder, a third for her conservation district chairman's report; to Marion Marrs, a second place for Federation Day program; to Marion Marrs a third place for the arts department report; to Johnnie Gordon a first for district membership chairman's report; and a first to Harriet Brandon for the district junior director's report.

The HWC membership is presently selling a book titled "Cracker Barrel of Crafts" put out by the junior clubwomen of the state filled with craft ideas and projects suitable for teacher, Vacation Bible School teachers and others who enjoy crafts. The books sell for $3.50 and may be purchased by contacting Janie Loudder, 655-4042, Marion Marrs, 355-3748, or any other HWC member.

Plans were outlined for the club's participation in the summertime bicentennial celebration on July 3 by the club's bicentennial projects chairman, Gwyn Cornett. The club will have a tasting booth featuring recipes originating in the 18th and 19th century. Festivalgoers will be able to copy down their favorite recipes at the club's booth that afternoon.

Preliminary plans were also made for a June summertime social for members and their husbands to be held at the home of Joe and Bonnie Kraai, 1410 Hillcrest.

What's the mystery? Elementary, Watson

BY KAROLYN FARMER

LIKE MOST PEOPLE, I love a good mystery story. I've even had fleeting dreams of someday writing a great novel, full of suspense and intrigue. Of course, I'd have to change my name — maybe Agatha Farmer would be appropriate, or how about Karolyn Spillane.

There's something very mysterious going on now, and it doesn't take a Sherlock Holmes to discover the clues.

Carolyn Bostick is typical of lots of "bright red" parents — the result of a full day in the sun watching her three boys' baseball games.

Gene Howe principal, Luther Lawless, has developed a noticeable limp — the result of trying to keep just one step ahead of 600 excited youngsters.

Gwen Sellers has run off ten pounds in the last two weeks — the result of her special "mother of the bride" exercises.

What's the solution? Well, it's "elementary, my dear Watson!" Another school year is almost over.

But the biggest mystery still remains to be solved — how in the world are we parents going to make it through this next week???

BRENDA SELLERS, WHO will marry David Wetzel on Friday, May 21, was honored with a wedding shower last Saturday. The shower, which was held at the home of Ernestine Harp, was also co-hosted by Glenna Schmidt, Darlene Bell, Troyce Mulherin and Irma Perry.

The decorations, done in pastel colors, featured a table centerpiece made of daisies, along with daisy corsages for the honored guests.

Gwen Sellers, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, mother of the groom, were present. Also attending the shower were Gwen's mother, Mrs. Irene Murphy; Mrs. Danny Spencer, Gwen's sister from Lafayette, La.; and two of Edgar Sellers' sisters, Mrs. Jenny Flowers of Happy, and Mrs. Velma Lawrence.

Brenda was honored at another wedding shower on May 15th, hosted by several of her college friends. Held at the home of Donna McKinley, other cohostesses were Mary Lee Lovelady, Jenny Browder and Sarah James.

KEN AND SHARON Ritz and their family are brand new residents of our area. The Ritz family moved to their new home near McCormick Road and South Washington last week from Lima, Ohio. Ken was transferred here by Nalco Chemical Company, where he is employed as a sales representative.

There are four children in the Ritz family: Michelle, who is five years old; six-year-old Jimmy; Shauna, 11; and Bill, 13.

The Ritzes are all natives of Ohio, although Ken did attend graduate school at the University of Houston.

Their favorite family past-time is raising and riding horses, and they also raise Labrador Retrievers.

ANITA AND DUANE Harp have a busy and exciting weekend ahead of them. Anita, one of the Gene Howe kindergarten teachers, and Duane, the son of Bill and Ernestine Harp, have purchased their first home, which is located on Lewis Lane.

Packing is already in progress, and they plan to move in during the next few days.

SHERRIE AND ROY Cates, Ken and Greg, drove to West, Texas last Friday to attend the wedding of Sherrie's niece, Peggy McCartney. West, a small German-Polish-Chech community, is located 15 miles north of Waco.

The Cates spent Friday evening helping to decorate the hall for the wedding reception. They drove to Waco Saturday morning to visit with their son, Ronnie, and Trisha Shands, both Baylor students.

The wedding of Peggy McCartney to Leon Pustjeosky was held Saturday afternoon. The bride and groom each had nine attendants, all dressed in colors of burgandy and pink. Ronnie Cates and Trisha Shands provided the music during the Communion; Ronnie played the trombone, accompanied by Trisha at the organ.

The center of attraction at the wedding reception which followed was a six-foot-tall wedding cake. The false bottom tier of the cake was topped by a miniature water fountain with sparkling pink and burgandy lights.

The Cates family were among the many guests who enjoyed the barbecue dinner on Saturday evening, with 500 pounds of prime beef as the main course. Apricot and sausage kolaches were also part of the special meal.

And even nine-year-old Greg Cates enjoyed dancing to the country music as a live band entertained the remainder of the evening.

Ronnie Cates returned home with his parents, and will be spending the summer here before returning to Baylor.

CUB SCOUT PACK 130 was well represented at the Jamboree held at Camp Don Harrington this past weekend. About 25 boys and 10 adults from Pack 130 were among the 1,200 scouts and leaders present for the camp-out.

The Webelos, led by Charles Pender, spent two nights at the Jamboree, while the younger boys went just for the Saturday activities. Local Boy Scouts who are members of Packs 112, 97 and 80 were also in attendance.

The boys took part in several games and contests, including a joustling contest and a "pillow fight." The Webelos of Pack 130 showed their superior knowledge of Scouting as they answered questions in the "Be Prepared" game. They placed first in the Webelo Division.

Delbert Hollis was responsible for the only "disaster" of the afternoon, when he lost his shoes while wading in the creek.

All of the boys who participated in the event will receive a special Jamboree patch.

Pack 130 will hold its last meeting of the year on Thursday, May 20. The main event for the meeting will be the annual Pinewood Derby.

HEY, JUNIOR HIGH students, mark June 4 on your calendar. There will be lots of food and foot-stomping fun for all 7, 8 and 9 graders (and also just-graduated 6 graders) in the Gene Howe Cafeteria. The Junior High Fun Night is part of the summer program planned by the Community Education Committee.

THE GENE HOWE PTA Executive Committee held its annual "Officer's Luncheon" at Raydell Palmer's home last Wednesday. Along with the delicious covered dish lunch, there was a short business meeting and gifts were presented.

The officers showed their appreciation to Luther Lawless with a pocket-sized calculator. I received a beautiful flower arrangement and a corsage from the other officers who have served this past year.

There were no tears during our last official board meeting of the year — but that's just because we were all too full to be very sentimental.

And I just can't pass up this opportunity to thank everyone who served as PTA officers this year, along with Ernestine Harp and our fantastic teachers and staff.

Their cooperative and loving spirit has made this year a very special one for me.

WONDERLAND PARK TICKETS went on sale this week at the school. Gene Howe Night at Wonderland Park will be Monday, May 24 from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m.

So we'll see you at Wonderland, located in Thompson Park, on Monday!

Plans were discussed for fall programs and the highlight of the discussion centered on the best remembered programs of the past year.

Miss Claudia Neelley, project chairman, reported on the progress of the historical wallhanging being prepared for the Canyon City Library as a bicentennial project. She reported that the appliques are finished and committee members are now working on the embroidery portions of the panel. Displayed were three completed panels of the overall wall hanging.

On behalf of Miss Neelley, Mrs. Harper represented the club at the "Windows to the Past" awards presentation and received a certificate from the Canyon-Randall County Bicentennial Committee for the project. The certificate was presented to the club's historian for mounting in the scrapbook at the Monday evening meeting. Next session for the club will be this fall.

"Windows" entertain festival crowds

At mid-afternoon Saturday the Canyon Courthouse lawn was filled with about 400 spectators and those who had spent the past several hours viewing the "Windows To The Past" exhibits in downtown business windows.

Texas State Senator Max Sherman presented special awards as numerous individuals received plaques and other awards for their participation in the festival event, as well as past efforts in recognition of the bicentennial birthday of America.

As the large crowd gathered on the courthouse lawn, Dr. Duane Guy, chairman of the Canyon-Randall County Bicentennial Committee, served as emcee for the awards program and frameable certificates of recognition were awarded by the committee.

Awards presented included the poster contest winners in the "Windows to the Past" contest jointly sponsored by the Bicentennial Committee and the Parent Teacher Associations of both Gene Howe and Rex Reeves Elementary Schools of the CISD.

The program was opened with a presentation by two dancing classes instructed by Mrs. Barbara Tucek and was concluded with the Rex Reeves Elementary Show Choir, under direction of Donna Wilson, presented a variety of bicentennial selections.

Other awards presented by Senator Max Sherman included the official presentation of a plaque and medal for Hazel Sunderman from the Valley Forge Foundation; and a "Golden Telephone" award for Mary Alice Hines, who was reputed to have done the most phone calling in planning the successful two day bicentennial project. Mrs. Hines was chairman of the festival arrangements. She also accepted an award for a current newspaper column "Bicentennial Echoes From The Past" which has been recognized as an official Heritage project and appears weekly in the Canyon Sunday News.

Lois Hull, president of the Palo Duro Hospital Board, accepted an award for the recent work done on the Outdoor Visitor's Center at the hospital, which has been recognized as a bicentennial project.

On behalf of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation which produces the outdoor musical drama "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon during the summer months, Margaret Harper accepted an award recognizing the drama's eleventh season as an official bicentennial production and festival project. The summer drama will be opening on June 16.

Earlier in the year West Texas State University received recognition as an official Bicentennial University and Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president, accepted an award for the university at the ceremonies Saturday.

The West Texas State University Operation Facelift Project has also been recognized as an official Horizons '76 project and the university president's wife, Mary, accepted on behalf of the committee.

Dr. James Hanson, director for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, accepted two Heritage project awards in recognition of the museum's chronology of the Texas Panhandle through displays and the restoration of the T-Anchor Ranch Headquarters on the museum complex.

Elon Baker, director at the Palo Duro State Park, accepted a Horizons '76 bicentennial award for the newly opened Palo Duro State Park Interpretive Center.

Three Horizons '76 awards were presented in relation to the Canyon Public Library, which has recently opened in new quarters within the Canyon Civic Complex. Mary Huntington, city librarian, accepted an award to the Canyon Public Library while Mrs. Linnie Harter, chairman, accepted an award given the Organization of the Friends of the Canyon Public Library. The creation of a historical wall hanging, being prepared by the Canyon Fine Arts Club, for display in the new library facility was recognized with an award being accepted by Margaret Harper, Fine Arts Club president. She accepted the award on behalf of Claudia Neelley, project chairman.

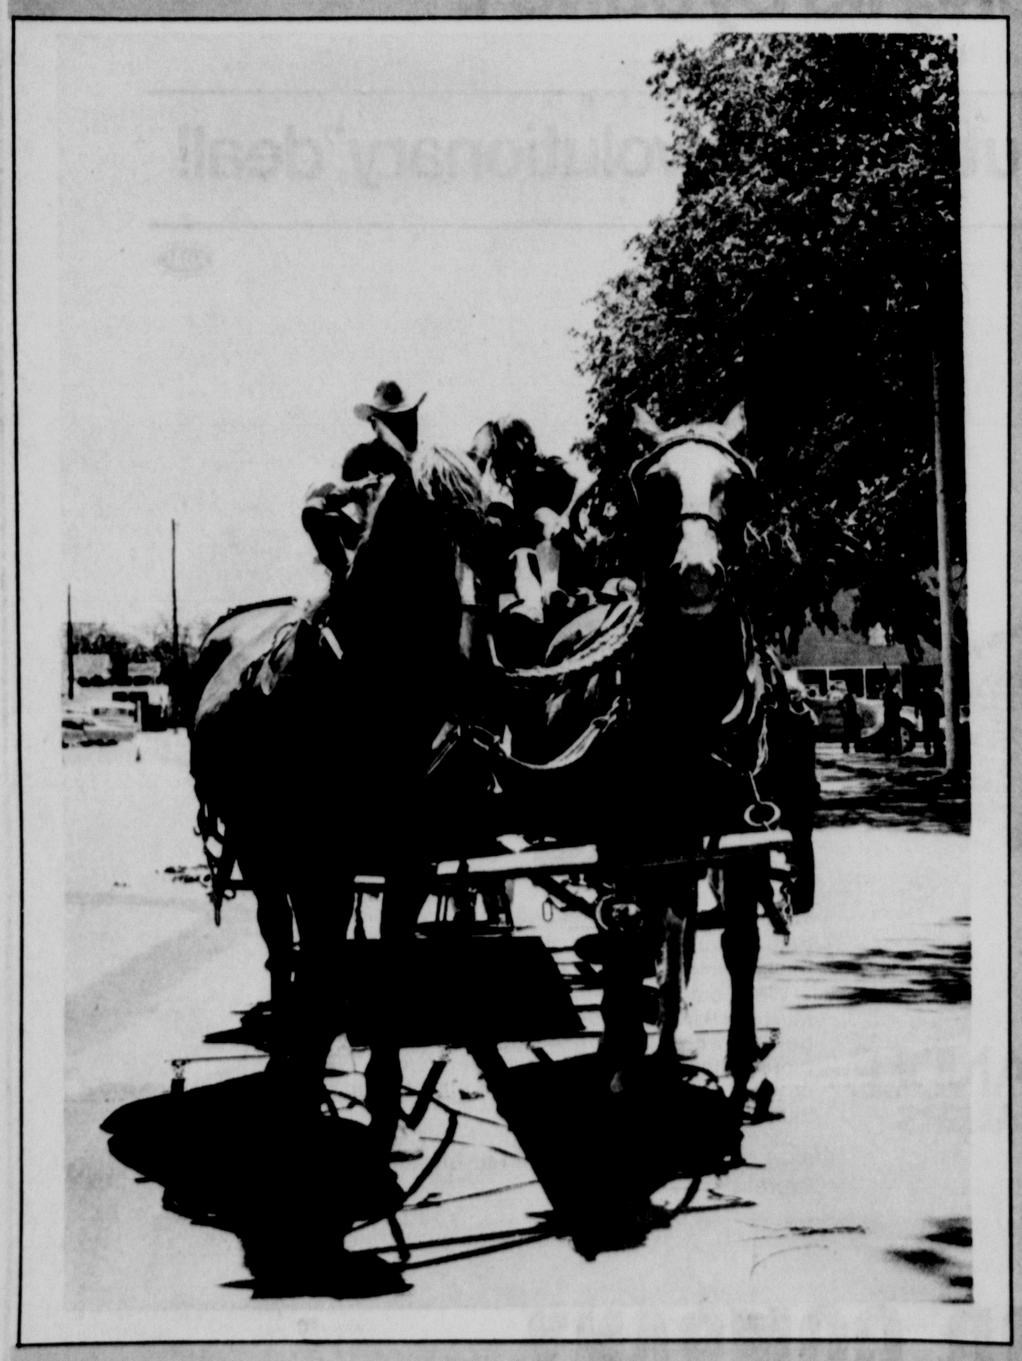
Other awards of the afternoon included the recognition of two publications as official bicentennial publications. Dr. Fred Rathjen accepted an award for the recent publication of his book "The Texas Panhandle Frontier;" and Gerald Warwick accepted an award for the late Mrs. Grace Warwick's publication "The Randall County Story" which has been recognized as a history of the county officially.

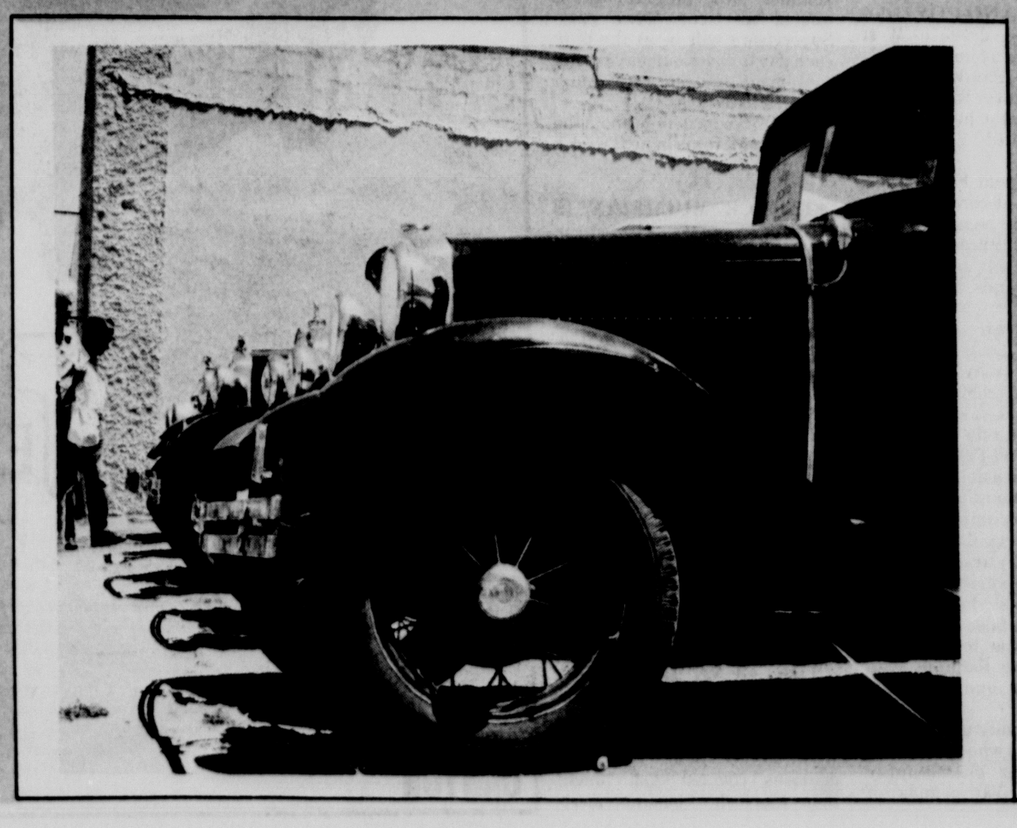
Large crowds visited the two day "Windows to the Past" festival which kicked off shortly after noontime on Friday with a downtown parade featuring costumed first grade students from Rex Reeves Elementary School. Awards were presented by the parade emcee John Childs, and included gift certificates and hayride tickets for the festival.

The "Windows to the Past" which had entertained school students and numerous townsfolk on Friday, took a definite festival atmosphere Saturday as the downtown area had streets blocked to make way for haywagon rides being sold by the Canyon Bicentennial Committee and other organizational sales booths scattered around the square.

Pioneering Randall County families were featured in the "windows" displays and antique automobiles, farming equipment and firemen's equipment was displayed at various sites near the square.

Several thousand visited the "windows" at the festival according to the chairman, Mrs. Hines. A good number were seen observing the pioneer exhibits in business windows late into the evening both Friday and Saturday.





Charles Stephenson, WTSU Board of Regents Chairman Jack Shelton, Clara Looten, WTSU Regent Irby Carruth, Dr. Lloyd Watkins.

GARAGE SALE BARGAIN hunters will get a real opportunity to purchase valuable used merchandise on Saturday at the Junior Livestock Building as Boy Scouts of Troop 31 attempt to raise funds for an upcoming camping trip to Ute Lake.

The scouts have rounded up everyone's used stuff to sell at the garage sale and have added some new items for an auction to highlight the activity.

IF YOU MISSED those red beans and cornbread served up by the Serendipity youth group at First Christian Church fellowship hall on Wednesday evening, you surely did miss out on a good deal.

The youth's proceeds will be going toward a summer activity — and several bean-filled prize winners took home some special art which was given away during the event.

THERE'S ANOTHER NEW contest underway called the "sizzler" being sponsored by First National Bank. Entrants will be guessing the date that the thermometer will first register 100 degrees this summer.

If the temperature does not reach 100 degrees prior to Labor Day, the contest will be closed then anyway with the winner determined by the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department's official weather records.

Prizes range from a first place of $100, to $50 for second, $25 for third, and $10 for fourth place — and besides winners having a checking account there can reap double on the prizes shown.

It's worth a guess, those 100 degree days may be here sooner than you think!

WON'T BE LONG until "splash day" at the Conner Park swimming pool which is scheduled to open May 29. Pool hours will be from 1:30 until 7 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays.

Sunday pool hours will be from 2-6 p.m. with single admissions costing 50 cents. Individual season passes for the pool may be purchased for $15 or family passes for the season at $40.

And there is usually a way to get the pool for evening parties if arrangements are made through the pool director far enough in advance. Of course, that makes a qualified lifeguard work overtime, so it takes a little time to make such arrangements!

I think she would be pleased to know that Clara Looten has received this award in her memory." The scholarship is given each year by Charles Stephenson in memory of his sister.

Members of the Philomathic Club of Amarillo have begun a program of contributions to West Texas State University's Consolidated Student Loan Fund.

Their opening contribution was a $56 check symbolic of their 56 years in existence as a club in Amarillo.

Accepting the check May 14 on behalf of West Texas State University was WTSU President Lloyd I. Watkins and Associate Director of Student Financial Aid Jack Jones.

"We are delighted that the Philomathic Club has seen fit to initiate a student loan fund for young people attending West Texas State University. This is an excellent example of the kind of support we need from the private sector, and we are pleased that they thought of us," Watkins said.

The fund will be used for emergency, short-term loans to students, according to Jones.

The Philomathic Club, whose name means "love of learning," has a history of supporting education in the region. The club also contributes to day nurseries in Amarillo.

Kids charged with alcohol

Three 17-year-olds arrested here Saturday night have pleaded not guilty to the charge of illegally possessing alcohol.

The youths, all from Amarillo, were stopped by Canyon police after the driver made an erratic left turn without giving a signal, according to police.

As he wrote a traffic ticket, the officer spotted several cans of beer, and arrested Scott Bradley Haugen, Kenneth B. Reed and David James Cole.

Three persons were arrested Sunday after police raided a Canyon apartment and found marijuana there.

CHS athletes downed at state

Canyon High's top tennis player and golfer both lost out in the state tournament last wekend.

Bill Turner, in golf, and Todd Kent, in tennis, are the first CHS students to compete at the state level.

Turner finished 14th out of 44 after missing a good chance at a placing.

The first day, Turner finished with an 80, two strokes behind the leader. But the next day, he shot a 45 on the first nine holes. His back nine was a 38 to put him out of the running.

In the first match, Kent drew Van Fleming of West Columbia, who later took the state championship. Kent lost both sets 6-2 and 6-2.

Colleges must change, Watkins tells graduates

West Texas State University President Lloyd I. Watkins traveled to his undergraduate school May 9 to present the commencement address.

Entitled "A Return to Grace," Watkins' speech was given to the 750-member graduating class of Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, which is Watkins' hometown.

Watkins attended SE Missouri State from 1945-1949, when he graduated magna cum laude with a bachelor of science in education. His major fields were history and social studies.

In his address, Watkins analyzed the factors which have led to higher education's drop in the ranking of national priorities. He cited the overselling of universities as the savior institutions, the riots and violence on campuses, and the overbuilding of universities and the loss of a sense of relevance as the key problems.

A return to a higher position on the scale of national priorities will not be swift or easy, Watkins said. "I submit to you, however, that it can be accomplished through the creation of student-centered universities."

Student-centered universities, according to Watkins, are those which recognize that they are there on the students' behalf, and will provide all the necessities for their personal development.

"I believe that, because of their size and because they are not so weighted down with incrustations of tradition, the Southeast Missouri State and the West Texas States of the world have a great opportunity to further their reputations for being flexible, adaptable, relevant, caring and student-centered universities," Watkins concluded.
